IMPLEMENTATION PARTNER PACK / PROPOSED OFFER / 2026-09-06

Bring AI catalog services to your clients.

Install and support Clef for labels, publishers and organizations that administer music rights. Help their teams connect recordings with compositions, set AI-use terms and manage licensing requests in their own infrastructure.

A service you can build on

Offer setup, catalog imports, branding, integrations, staff training and ongoing maintenance. You set your service prices and retain that service revenue. Clef provides the software and shared technical documentation.

Annual partner license

US$1,200 per client organization, billed annually. Each partner's first client receives a first-year price of US$600; renewals and additional clients are US$1,200 annually. Activation fee: US$0. Applicable taxes are additional.

Your client's installation

The standard program covers installation and support in the client organization's infrastructure. The client controls its catalog data, access and licensing decisions. Partner-hosted services, OEM distribution and other resale require a separately scoped agreement.

Support and continuity

You provide day-to-day customer support. Clef provides shared documentation and software issue channels; bespoke assistance is scoped separately. If a partner stops renewing, its commercial service entitlement ends. The client keeps its applicable own-node rights, records and exports and can self-administer or select another licensed partner.

Start with the partner program

Register your interest with your business details, the services you offer and your expected client count. This proposed offer is available for evaluation. Paid activation follows the completed agreement and designated software release.

The released v0.1.0-alpha.1 uses AGPL-3.0-only. The proposed Own-Node and Partner Licenses apply to a future source-available release once adopted. Earlier grants and component licenses continue to apply.

The partner first-client offer is separate from the 50% discount on Clef-assisted pilot setup fees.